

Thrivent All Cap Portfolio

Ticker: QTACPX

Inception: Nov. 30, 2001

Objective: Thrivent All Cap Portfolio seeks long-term growth of capital.

Portfolio key points

Thrivent All Cap Portfolio invests across the broad U.S. stock market.

Analyst's best pick

This Portfolio is managed as an analysts' best pick strategy. This means that the stocks invested in the Portfolio come from the analysts. The analysts have specific sectors they cover and extensively study those sectors, which provides fertile grounds for investment options.

Unconstrained access

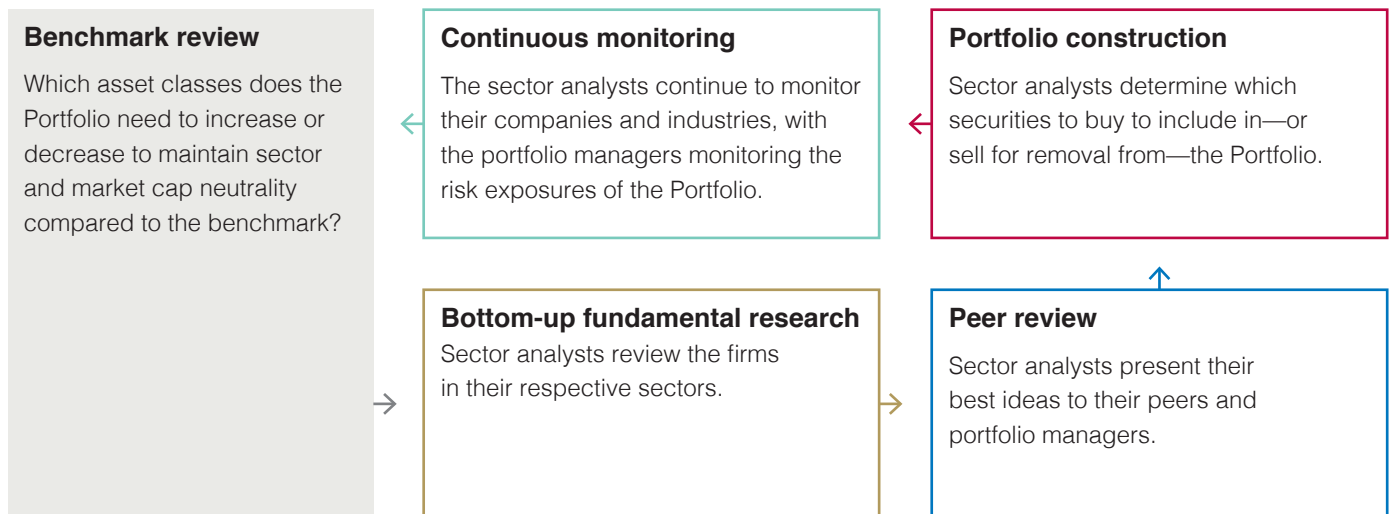

The Portfolio is unconstrained in its ability to invest across different assets classes—from small-cap companies to large-cap companies. The Portfolio is also not constrained by any particular investment style as it can invest in value, growth and core strategies.

Portfolio construction

The Portfolio is constructed with a bottom-up company fundamental analysis. The portfolio managers of the Portfolio try to mitigate—but not fully eliminate—market risk via diversification in market capitalization and sector exposure.

Process

The Portfolio's process is designed to have stock selection be the key contributor to returns. The Portfolio does this by being sector and market cap neutral with the exposure it holds compared to the Portfolio's benchmark.

Portfolio philosophy

Fundamental bottom-up research

Analysts dive deep into understanding the sector they cover and the firms that make up that sector.

Risk conscious

Diversification across market capitalization, sector and investment style is sought.

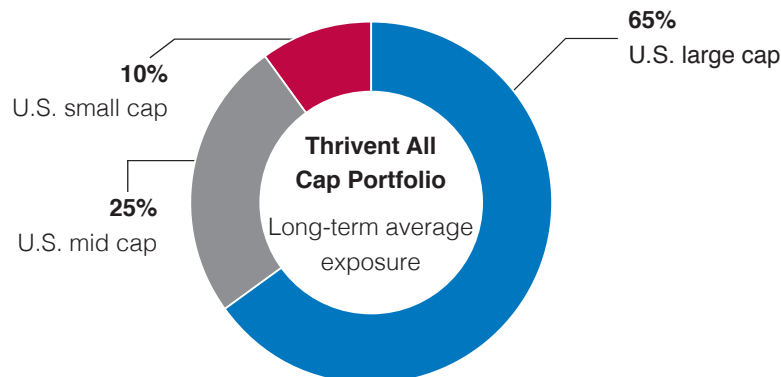

Analysts' best picks

Sector analysts pick what they think are the best investments in their sector for inclusion in the portfolio.

Allocation

The Portfolio invests across the market capitalization spectrum of U.S. securities. While the Portfolio is built from a bottom-up approach, it will typically hold a broad basket of securities that represent all aspects of the U.S. market from small- to large-cap companies.

The chart below represents the long-term average exposure, is not representative of any particular trading strategy, and is subject to change.

“Thrivent All Cap Portfolio utilizes the specialized knowledge of our analysts, who extensively study their sectors and companies, to collectively invest in their best picks.”

Risks: The Portfolio's value is influenced by a number of factors, including the performance of the broader market, and risks specific to the Portfolio's asset classes, investment styles, and issuers. Large-cap companies may be unable to respond quickly to new competitive challenges and may not be able to attain a high growth rate. The Adviser's assessment of investments may prove incorrect, resulting in losses or poor performance. Small- and medium-sized companies often have greater price volatility and less liquidity than larger companies. Markets may also be impacted by domestic or global events, including public health threats, terrorism, natural disasters or similar events. These and other risks are described in the prospectus.

The Portfolio is only available to the public through a variable life or variable annuity product. Contact the applicable insurance company for more information and a contract prospectus that will include information on the additional charges and fees that apply to the specific contract.

Before investing, investors should consider carefully the investment objectives, risks, charges and expenses of a portfolio and the variable insurance product. This and other important information is contained in the portfolio and variable insurance product prospectuses, which may be obtained from a financial professional or by contacting the applicable insurance company. Read them carefully before investing.
