Portfolio Description

The Thrivent Large Cap Growth Portfolio looks to provide investors with consistent, competitive performance through favorable stock selection while monitoring risk. The Portfolio typically invests in large company "growth" stocks. Growth stocks are companies whose earnings are expected to grow at an above-average rate relative to the market. Large companies are generally considered to be more stable, but may not have the fast growth potential of smaller companies or the ability to respond as quickly to competitive challenges and changing market conditions.

Investment Strategy/Process

The portfolio management team seeks to add value through stock selection and active management, and monitors risk in an effort to build a well-diversified portfolio. Thrivent analysts identify securities that they believe may provide strong, long-term, organic growth opportunities, or that are uniquely positioned within the industry. Each analyst uses a proprietary research process, considering the factors and characteristics that are most relevant for each industry. The analyst team's "best ideas" in each sector are presented to the portfolio management team as candidates for the portfolio. The portfolio managers are responsible for portfolio construction and risk management. Variances in the portfolio's sector weightings compared to the benchmark are minimized in an effort to ensure that stock selection is the primary source of excess return.

Risks: The Portfolio primarily invests in securities of large companies, which may be unable to respond quickly to new competitive challenges and may not be able to attain a high growth rate. The value of the Portfolio is influenced by factors impacting the overall market, certain asset classes, certain investment styles, and specific issuers. The Portfolio may incur losses due to incorrect assessments of investments that do not perform as anticipated by the investment adviser. Foreign investments involve additional risks, including currency fluctuations, liquidity, political, economic and market instability, and different legal and accounting standards. Common stocks of companies that rely extensively on technology, science or communications in their product development or operations may be more volatile than the overall stock market and may or may not move in tandem with the overall stock market. Quantitative investing uses models and factors that rely on historical data and may be incomplete. The Portfolio is considered "non-diversified" according to SEC regulations, which means that it may invest a greater percentage of its assets in the securities of any single issuer compared with diversified portfolios. These and other risks are described in the Portfolio's prospectus.
