Ticker QTLCIX
Inception June 14, 1995
Objective Thrivent Large Cap Index Portfolio seeks total returns that track the performance of the S&P 500® Index.

Facts about the Thrivent Index Portfolio product suite

Thrivent Large Cap Index Portfolio is one of five Thrivent Index Portfolios that seek to track a respective index benchmark.

Five equity indexes

Thrivent offers five different index portfolios providing U.S., International or ESG exposure across the market capitalization universe. The domestic portfolios track the S&P SmallCap 600[1], S&P MidCap 400[2], S&P 500[3], and MSCI KLD 400 Social[4] Indexes. The international portfolio tracks the MSCI EAFE[5] Index.

Market replication

We utilize full replication for tracking the indexes. This means that each portfolio tracks the index by directly buying—in the same proportions—the underlying securities that make up the index.

Broad market exposure

Combined, these five portfolios track approximately 90% of the U.S. market capitalization and approximately 85% of international market capitalization.[6] The index portfolios provide investors with an extensive amount of potential market exposure.

Risks: Large companies are generally considered to be more stable but may not have the fast growth potential of smaller companies or the ability to respond as quickly to competitive challenges and changing market conditions. The Portfolio’s value is influenced by a number of factors, including the performance of the broader market and risks specific to the Portfolio’s asset classes and issuers. The use of futures contracts involves additional risks such as a loss in value in the underlying instrument, which could decrease the Portfolio’s value. The Portfolio attempts to track the performance of the S&P 500 Index, but the return may not match that of the Index due to several factors including timing and expenses. If the Portfolio becomes non-diversified while seeking to track the Index, it will generally be more susceptible to the risk that events or developments affecting a particular issuer or industry will significantly affect performance results. Common stocks of companies that rely extensively on technology, science or communications in their product development or operations may be more volatile than the overall stock market and may or may not move in tandem with the overall stock market. These and other risks are described in the prospectus.

The Portfolio is only available to the public through a variable life or variable annuity contract. Contact the provider for more information and a contract prospectus which will include information on the additional charges and fees that apply to the specific contract.
